

Public consultation on changes to our proposals near Burnell Avenue

We're holding a public consultation on changes to the designs that we published last year, including:

- Making changes to the size and appearance of the intake structure, adding underground pumps to help draw water from the river and new maintenance hatches
- Increasing the size of the control building and adding a footpath around three sides of the building
- Making changes to the design of the outfall structure, including additional maintenance hatches and revised earthworks
- Extending the draft Order limits for the project, to provide space on Beaufort Road for the upgrade of a power cable
- Increasing the number of heavy goods vehicles (HGVs) servicing a proposed worksite close to Burnell Avenue, while reducing the number of HGV movements to and from the proposed Tudor Drive worksite, and removing HGV movements from the proposed Ham Playing Fields worksite, which is no longer needed
- Extending the duration of construction at the Burnell Avenue worksite.
